Numb. 10672.

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Tuesday October 28, to Saturday November 1, 1766.

St. James's, November 1.

THE following Addreſs of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens of the City of Dublin, in Common Council aſſembled, has been preſented to His Majeſty: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens of the City of Dublin, in Common Council aſſembled, with Hearts deeply impreſſed with Affection for your Majeſty, beg Leave to offer our ſincere Congratulations upon the intereſting Events which have ſo recently happened.

The ſafe Delivery of her Majeſty calls for our moſt grateful Acknowledgments to the Divine Being; and plainly evinces, that a Princeſs, like her, endowed with every natural and acquired Grace, is and always muſt be the peculiar and favourite Care of Providence.

Permit us, Royal Sir, with the utmoſt Veneration, to congratulate your Majeſty on the Encreaſe of your Illuſtrious Family, by the Birth of a Princeſs Royal; an Event which gives your faithful Subjects and their Poſterity a further Aſſurance of the Preſervation of our happy Conſtitution, and of poſſeſſing thoſe valuable and ſolid Advantages they have hitherto enjoyed under the Patronage of your Majeſty's Auguſt Houſe.

The Marriage of your Royal Siſter, the Princeſs Caroline Matilda, with his Majeſty the King of Denmark, muſt give univerſal Satisfaction to your faithful Subjects, as, by promoting an Alliance with ſo powerful and reſpectable a Monarch, governed by the Principles he is, your Majeſty not only demonſtrates your Paternal Regards for the true Intereſt of your People, but alſo your Attention to whatever may ſtrengthen the Proteſtant Religion.

This antient and loyal City, animated by a due Senſe of the many Royal Favours with which it has been diſtinguiſhed, and of your Majeſty's early and repeated Acts of Virtue, is deſirous of aſſuring your Majeſty, the ſame Loyalty and Attachment, for which it hath hitherto been remarkable, ſhall be always exerted in the Defence and Support of your Majeſty's Perſon and Government.

In Teſtimony whereof, we have cauſed the common Seal of the ſaid City to be hereunto affixed, this Seventeenth Day of October, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-ſix.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council of the City of Exeter, in Chamber aſſembled, has been preſented to His Majeſty: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

May it pleaſe our Gracious Sovereign,

WE the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council, of the City of Exeter, in Chamber aſſembled, preſume to congratulate your Majeſty on the auſpicious Birth of a Princeſs; an Event not leſs intereſting to your Majeſty's domeſtick Happineſs, than to the Welfare of your People, who derive a Security to their Laws and Liberties, from whatſoever tends to perpetuate your illuſtrious Houſe.

Accept likewiſe, moſt gracious Sovereign, our ſincereſt and moſt reſpectful Congratulations on the Marriage of the Princeſs, your Royal Siſter, with the King of Denmark: May this Alliance prove as productive of mutual Joy and Felicity to the Royal Pair, as it is conducive to the Maintenance and Support of the Proteſtant Intereſt in Europe.

Amidſt this univerſal Joy and Congratulation, we ſhould be wanting in Gratitude, if we failed to acknowledge the paternal Care, wherewith your Majeſty watched over the Welfare of your People, when by a late ſeaſonable Exertion of the Prerogative, your Majeſty reſcued them from all the Miſeries of Famine. In conſequence of the late Embargo, the Fruits of the Earth are reſtored to your People, who, ſecure in your Majeſty's Protection, now taſte the Bleſſings of Peace and Liberty, under the Reign of a Patriot Prince.

May every domeſtick Felicity, every publick Bleſſing, attend your Majeſty's Reign, and render it long, proſperous, and happy.

St. Peterſbourg, September 21, O. S. Yeſterday being the Birth-day of his Imperial Highneſs the Great Duke, who then entered into the 13th Year of his Age, was celebrated here with the uſual Magnificence. At Eleven o'Clock his Imperial Highneſs paſſed into the Apartments of her Imperial Majeſty, from whence he proceeded with her to the Court-Chapel, where they heard Divine Service.

At Twelve they received the Congratulations of the Foreign Miniſters, Nobility, and Clergy. At One the Empreſs and Great Duke dined in Publick with the Nobility of both Sexes of the two firſt Claſſes. On this Occaſion the Imperial Healths were drank with the loudeſt Acclamations, and the uſual Ceremonies of firing the Cannon of the Fortreſs and Admiralty. In the Evening was a grand Ball and Supper, at which aſſiſted all the Foreign Miniſters, and the Nobility of both Sexes of the four firſt Claſſes. The Night concluded with great Illuminations, and every other Demonſtration of Joy.

Liſbon, October 5. His moſt Faithful Majeſty has lately conferred on the Count d'Oeyras the Juriſdiction of the Town of Oeyras, (only the Territory about it being in a former Grant) and the Poſt of Alcay de Mor, or High Bailiff of the City of Lamego.

His Britannick Majeſty's Sloop the Spy, Capt. Thomas Allwright, arrived the 30th of September from Newfoundland, and will proceed Home in a few Days.

The Expedition Packet came in this Morning in Eleven Days.

Stockholm,

Stockholm, October 14. Hoffman has been executed here this Morning, in purſuance of the Sentence paſſed upon him by the Commiſſion.

Warſaw, October 15. Count Bielinſki, who for many Years has exerciſed the Charge of Great Marſhal of the Crown, died here lately. Prince Lubomirſky, Son-in-Law of Prince Czartoriſki, Palatin of Ruſſia, is nominated to ſucceed him in that important Employ.

Hamburgh, October 21. On Saturday the 18th Inſtant, the Queen of Denmark landed at Altona; and it is impoſſible to deſcribe the Crowds of People, as well upon the Elbe as on the Shore, and in every Street through which her Majeſty was to paſs, waiting to ſee their Queen. The River was covered with Boats ornamented with Daniſh and Britiſh Colours, as were all the Ships with their reſpective ones, both at Altona and Hamburgh. On Account of the Tide her Majeſty did not get into her Barge at Haarbourg till paſt Three o'Clock: It was a new one finely ornamented, and built by the City of Hamburgh on Purpoſe for this Solemnity. Her Majeſty's Approach to Altona was announced by the frequent Diſcharges of Cannon from the Ships in the River; and as ſoon as ſhe came in Sight of Hamburgh, that City ſaluted the Queen with Thirty Guns. A Quarter of an Hour before the Landing, his Excellency the Baron de Dehn, Stadtholder of the Dutchies of Sleſwick and Holſtein, handed the Grande Maitreſſe Madame de Pleſſe, followed by the Maids of Honour, and the reſt of her Majeſty's Houſehold, down to the Bridge prepared for the Royal Reception, which was covered with Scarlet Cloth, on one Side whereof were ranged the Ladies, and on the other the Men, and at the End were two Rows of young Maidens dreſſed in White, who ſtrewed Flowers before her Majeſty as ſhe advanced. It was paſt Six o'Clock when the Queen landed. The Streets were lined with the Burghers under Arms, and eſcorted by the Daniſh Cuiraſſiers. Her Majeſty paſſed under a Triumphal Arch finely illuminated: Another of the ſame Kind was erected oppoſite to the Queen's Houſe, where her Majeſty being arrived, the Ladies were immediately preſented to her; after which her Majeſty ſupped in Publick. On Sunday Morning the Queen went to Church: At her Return there was a Circle, when all the Foreign Miniſters here were introduced to her Majeſty, as were the Deputies from the City of Hamburgh. After dining in Publick, about Four of the Clock her Majeſty, attended by all the Court, and by the Engliſh and Hanoverian Suite, paſſed through the principal Streets of Hamburgh, preceded by a large Detachment of Hamburgh Dragoons as well as by the Daniſh Troops: Her Majeſty was ſaluted, both at her Entry and Departure, by a grand Diſcharge of the Cannon upon the Ramparts. The Lieutenant General, Baron De Jahnus, at the Head of the Officers, had the Honour to ſalute her Majeſty as ſhe paſſed by the Grand Guard. At her Majeſty's Return to Altona, ſhe found the City finely illuminated. Yeſterday, being Monday, her Majeſty had a full Court, and was graciouſly pleaſed to receive a Deputation of four Members of the Factory, to compliment her upon her Arrival; and about Ten o'Clock the next Morning her Majeſty ſat out to proceed on her Journey to Copenhagen.
